Eisenhower Schnitzer/Novack Breast Center Recognizes Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Offering FREE Lectures Throughout October

Topics ranging from the myths and realities of breast cancer to the newest treatment options will be the focus of Eisenhower Schnizter/Novack Breast Center's FREE community lectures offered throughout the month of October — recognized nationally as Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Specialists in nutrition, genetic counseling, medical oncology, imaging and more will provide important information and updates on topics that matter most to breast cancer patients and survivors. The lectures are FREE and open to the public (see schedule below).
